

'ROUND 'N' 'ROUND

It's remarkable how rumors spread about town. The story starts with a whisper, and ends in a blaze of accusations and wild stories.

As an example, we will cite the case of John Jones. A neighbor sees John drive home late at night and put his car in the garage. As John comes out of the shed he stumbles over a block of wood.

The next day the neighbor tells her neighbor that John Jones came home last night and was terribly drunk. She then describes how John staggered out of the garage.

This neighbor then tells a friend that Mrs. So-and-So saw John Jones come home last night drunk as a lord. She describes how he staggered out of the garage, falls up the steps and lies on the porch for ten minutes before he tries to go into the house.

The friend then tells another neighbor how she was told about John Jones coming home intoxicated. She explains in detail how he was too drunk to put his car in the garage; how he staggered up the steps, laid on the porch and then yelled at the top of his voice for his wife to let him in.

This neighbor then tells another one about this terrible John Jones, who was so drunk the night before last that he couldn't park his car, how he staggered up the steps, yelled until his wife left him in. She ends her story with a statement that she firmly believes that John beat his wife.

Then this story goes on and on and on until we find John Jones came home drunk, couldn't park his car, staggered up the steps made a scene until his wife let him in and then he beat her until the police were called.

This sounds silly to most of you—but that is how a lot of stories start. And there are always some people who are willing to believe the worst about anyone.

During the war when the Germans captured a French town, a German paper reported that the priests in the town church rang the bells.

A French paper received one of the German's newspapers and it pounced upon the item, re-writing it as follows: "When the Germans captured the town of S—, the priests were forced to ring the bells."

A London paper then copied the French item, stating however: "According to reliable reports received by the French newspaper Le T— when the German's captured the town of S—, the priests of the town were forced by the German soldiers to ring the bell. A squad of German infantrymen, with bayonets fixed, stood ready to kill the aged priests if they refused to do their bidding."

The French paper, from which the English paper had clipped the item, then re-hashed the same story something like this: "Another tale of German cruelty was received in London yesterday by the London T—. According to their correspondent's report, when the Germans captured the town of S— they forced the priests at the point of bayonets to ring the village church bells. When one aged priest refused to do so, he was killed by a German soldier."

This story is vouched for as the truth by a certain author who has written an interesting book on war-time lies.

1000 IN SEARCH FOR LOST BOY

MOUNTAINS SCoured IN HUNT

TONOPAH, Nev., Oct. 17.—UP—Residents of this region were so concerned tonight about the disappearance of three-year-old Jackie Sullivan that approximately 1000 men had joined in the search for the boy at sundown. It was estimated here.

Small groups of searchers were scattered over such a wide area in the vicinity of Round Mountain that it was possible late today to pick up the trail of the child who had been missing since Thursday.

Evidence was found that Jackie had crossed Jefferson Creek, which runs through a narrow creek, several times. The stream is too shallow to cause fear that the boy had been drowned.

Greatest anxiety was caused by the danger of mountain lions, which are numerous in the vicinity of Round Mountain, one having been sighted today. There was also a possibility that Jackie had crawled into the tunnel of an abandoned mine and fallen down one of the shafts.

Word had been received from Reno that an airplane had left there with two trained bloodhounds to assist the search for the lost lad.

News that one of the numerous fierce mountain lions that frequent the region had been sighted only served to spur on the hunters, who hoped to find the lad before he should encounter one of the beasts.

Jackie, son of Dan Sullivan, a Tonopah miner, strayed away from his father's machine yesterday and could not be found. A cap and shoe found a mile from the spot led searchers in that direction, but today it was said they did not belong to the missing boy.

Some 1000 men were going through the underbrush of the hill country, their ranks hourly augmented by willing volunteers. Boy Scouts joined the search, and Oscar George, famed Indian trapper and guide, was in charge of one party.

The boy's mother was nearly prostrated with grief and worry.

SCOTS HOLD LADIES NIGHT

"Ladies Night" featured last night's session of Richmond Ceilidhs directed by Lud Johnson, Tonopah. A novelty game entitled "Cootie" kept the attendants in a jovial mood throughout the evening. Approximately 12 prizes were awarded to winners in the lively game. "An Old Fashioned Ceremony" is planned for presentation in the Richmond clubhouse the evening of November 7, and Johnson promises that the event will be exactly what the name indicates.

Bruised Hand Suffered By Boy

A badly bruised hand was suffered by nine-year-old Frank Matteucci when a playmate failed to strike a stick squarely the former was holding at the two were endeavoring to drive the stake into the ground.

The Mattucci lad who lives at 125 Standard avenue, was brought to Abbott Emergency hospital where his injured hand was treated. He was later returned to his home.

THREE DEAD IN QUALES

SANTIAGO, Chile, Oct. 17.—UP—Heavy earthquakes caused the deaths of three persons and considerable property damage in central Chile early today.

The tremors began before dawn and from 4 to 5 a. m. frequent shocks were felt, spreading panic through the countryside.

The most seriously affected area appeared to be in the vicinity of Quillota, where three persons were killed by falling debris. Cracks in buildings appeared, and several houses were badly damaged.

San Felipe and Los Andes, in the Andean region, reported heavy shocks. At Valparaiso, a number of buildings were damaged, and many persons slightly injured in the panic which followed the earthquake.

The earthquake was felt within considerable intensity as far east as Mendoza, Argentina, reports reaching Santiago said.

Naval Treaty On U. S. Ship

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—UP—The Japanese ratification of the London naval treaty, rushed across the continent in a speedy air trip which cost the life of an army flyer, was placed aboard the liner Leviathan today on the last lap of its journey.

Lieut. Irving A. Woodring landed at Roosevelt Field, L. I., with the document Thursday night, after a flight from Victoria, B. C.

His flight commander, Lieut. W. Caldwell of Oakland, Cal., crashed near Cheyenne, Wyo., in a snowstorm Wednesday and was killed.

Woman Drowns In Leap From Ferry

SA FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—UP—A woman jumped to her death from a San Francisco bay ferry today and another was restrained from doing the same thing two hours later.

After writing a note that said "life is cruel" Miss Ramona Bittner, 27, leaped from the ferry Lake Tahoe and search of the bay in an effort to find her body failed.

Later deck hands prevented a woman said by police to be Mrs. Louis Calvo, 40, from jumping off the ferry Hayward.

POLICE OPEN PROBE INTO EXPLOSION

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16.—UP—A terrific blast in the garment capitol building that injured 55 persons and rocked business structures within an eight block radius left authorities tonight with conflicting theories that sabotage was responsible.

Only the fact that the explosion came four minutes before 1,500 persons would have been at work in the 12 garment establishments in the 11 story building was believed to have prevented a heavy loss of life. None of the injured was critically hurt. Most of them received minor cuts which were treated at a police hospital.

There were only a dozen persons in the building when the explosion occurred on the fifth floor. A great sheet of flame enveloped the entire front of the structure. Glass flew through the air. Frightened persons rushed from nearby buildings. Many pedestrians were thrown to the sidewalk. Downtown Los Angeles was in turmoil as ambulances rushed to the scene.

Probe Starts

The early arrivals in the garment shops set up cries of terror to mingle with the falling debris. Some of them fled to the street with the clothing in flames. A cordon of 500 police soon surrounded the district.

When the first disorder had cleared away, fire department inspectors, district attorney's investigators and police "red" squad (Continued on Page 8)

TESTS OF NEW PLANE BANNED

Peter Allinio, well known El Cerrito pilot and airplane builder has just seen a plane he recently constructed, and in which he had great hopes for success, doomed to failure by California air laws.

The ship, a cabin type did not conform to department of commerce requirements, and its flight here would have been in violation of the state air laws. It was taken this week to Hollywood by Jimmy Angel, veteran California pilot and life long friend of Allinio, where it will be used in the film industry.

Allinio had eagerly awaited the test flights which were to be made at Oakland airport, but the only test there was its taking off for the southland. A waiver had been granted by the Oakland commerce bureau to allow the plane's departure for Hollywood.

This setback however, did not lessen the spirit of Allinio, who has been an active air enthusiast for the past 30 years. Today he was busy in his work shop at 409 Kearny street, El Cerrito making plans for another ship, which this time he assures will be the success he thought his last venture would be.

Clean Up Drive For Martinez

MARTINEZ, Oct. 18.—To protect the large number of persons expected here for the Southern Pacific's formal opening of its new bridge police were today checking up on all suspicious looking characters.

Undesirables are being herded from the city and new arrivals are being closely watched both by police and sheriff's deputies.

FIVE DEAD AS BIG BLIZZARD HITS CANADA

REGINA, Sask., Oct. 17.—UP—The worst autumn blizzard in history brought death and suffering to the vast prairies of Saskatchewan tonight.

The snow drifted before a howling wind to kill at least five persons, to cause a 12-year old girl to vanish, maroon trains on isolated tracks, block highways and tear down telephone lines.

So heavy was the snow that pedestrians in Regina became lost within shouting distance of their homes while Dorothy Gorenko, 12, disappeared in the swirling snow. She left her home last night. Scores of searchers linked themselves together with rope to brave the snow and wind in seeking her.

Five men who tried vainly to battle their way through the blizzard in an automobile to Regina were found dead in a snowdrift where the machine stalled. The other men in the same party were rescued in a serious condition.

S. Evoy, farmer who found the bodies, also saved the lives of four men stalled in a second automobile nearby. He hurried them to his home where he thawed their frozen fingers and toes.

Six-foot drifts 25 miles south of Prince Albert forced a Canadian National Railway train to halt. Snow plows were sent to clear the track.

SNOW FALLS IN MIDDLE WEST

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—UP—Near freezing temperatures prevailed in the midwest tonight. Snow flurries were frequent, particularly in the Wisconsin lake region.

The weather bureau predicted that the cold wave would last over the week-end.

Elks Conclave Hears Leader

DEL MONTE, Oct. 17.—UP—Lawrence H. Rupp of Allentown, Pa., grand exalted ruler of Elks, made the featured address before delegates to the state convention of the order here today.

Rupp claimed the United States was gradually drifting back to fraternalism, and that men were now seeking happiness through friendships instead of by accumulation of wealth.

He declared the Elks are "one of the greatest factors for good in America."

Accomplishments of the organization from 1868, when it was founded, until the present time when it has more than 1500 lodges with approximately 800,000 members were related by Rupp.

Steege Church To Hear Savant Talk

Members and visitors to Steege Presbyterian church tomorrow morning will hear Dr. Edward Arthur Wicher, professor at San Francisco Theological Seminary deliver the regular Sunday morning address from the pulpit of Meryl Bieh.

Dr. Wicher, professor of New Testament Theology and Greek Exegesis at the San Anselmo school is well known to Richmond Presbyterians and other church people. He filled in the Presbyterian pulpit here some time ago when the people were without a pastor.

Young Daughter Of Officer Found Dead

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 17.—UP—The body of Leona O'Laughlin, missing ten-year-old daughter of a Denver detective, was found in Berkeley park late today.

William M. McLeod, who was walking through the park, discovered the body floating on the water.

Deputy Coroner George Bostwick took charge of the body. He announced he would conduct an examination to determine whether the child had been murdered. Leona disappeared from her home.

Local Firm Files Papers

After five years of successful business in this city the Standard Showcase and Fixtures company has filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state at Sacramento.

A large brick building near the Santa Fe yards was completed by the concern this year and plans are under way for expansion as business demands. Elgin T. Hittell, one of the directors announced last night.

John F. Galloway, Berkeley, founded the business five years ago. Associated with him in addition to Hittell is Reece Clark, also of Berkeley.

Successor To Davis Rumored

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—UP—John Philip Frey of Ohio, a labor educator now with the American Federation of Labor, may be selected by President Hoover to succeed the retiring secretary of labor, James J. Davis. It was learned today on high authority.

A final choice has not yet been made by the president, it is said. Davis is not scheduled to retire until about Dec. 1 and his successor may not be officially announced until then. The president is quoted privately as having narrowed the probabilities down to Frey and William L. Hutchison of Indianapolis, president of the Carpenters' Union with Frey favored.

HAS OPERATION

The two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Weeks, 401 South Main was recovering at the University of California hospital in San Francisco today following an operation there early this week. Reports said he is expected to be home shortly.

TWO BADLY HURT IN BATTLE

Angered over his discharge from a railroad section gang, George Garon, 35 year old laborer attempted to even the score with his foreman last night when he attacked him with a shotgun as he rode with the remainder of the crew from his day's work on the Ford plant spur track, according to police.

Instead of shooting the foreman police charge Garon discharged a double barreled shotgun into the right hand of Longeno Gonzales, one of the hand car occupants. Garon was immediately attacked by the laborers and subdued with a pick handle.

At the Hospital Richmond Gonzales had his right hand amputated above the wrist while Garon, the alleged attacker was treated for a broken left arm and a deep cut on the head.

Man Held
Garon was being held under police guard at the hospital expected to be charged with assault with deadly weapon and intent to commit murder.

According to the story told police Garon laid in wait for the track crew at the corner of Cedar avenue and south twenty-ninth street prepared with the double barreled shotgun he had recently saved off to make it appear like a pistol. As the car approached the attention he rushed out and began firing.

Four shots were fired by Garon, the crew declared before he could be disarmed. Two of the track crew were left with the man while the remaining three men took the wounded man to the hospital Richmond and summoned police.

Laid in Wait
Capt. L. E. Jones took charge of the investigation under direction of Chief of Police Dan Cox. Police discovered a sack full of shotgun shells, a blanket, and other personal effects which Garon had at the place where he lay in wait for his intended victim.

These articles were being held by police as evidence in the impending trial.

Garon told police he was living in a tank house on the Zeb Knott property on Thirteenth street.

Dr. W. E. Cunningham assisted by Dr. L. S. John Healy amputated Gonzales hand. The injured man is expected to be taken to the Southern Pacific hospital in San Francisco soon. He was working on the new spur track being built by Southern Pacific into the Ford plant.

Alex Pulas of 715 Maple avenue was the foreman of the gang at whom the attack of Garon was directed, police say. There were five men in addition to himself on the handcar at the time of the shooting.

Officer William Crangel aided Captain Jones at the time of the arrest of Garon.

Landscape Artist Divorced; To Wed

RENO, Oct. 17.—UP—Shortly after he had secured a divorce here today, Wilhelm Ritchell, who has gained international fame as a landscape and marine artist, applied for a license to marry Eleanor Havel, who gave Reno as her address. Ritchell, a native of Germany, came to this country in 1895 and has exhibited his paintings in all important expositions of this country and Europe.

CAMPOLO WILL ENTER FIGHT GAME

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—UP—A cablegram from Vittorio Campolo, who passed through Rio de Janeiro today on his way home to Buenos Aires, announced his return in December to re-enter the heavyweight competition. But is there any competition? Are there any heavyweights? Didn't the last one of any consequence depart when Primo Carnera and his camp pulled one last grand coup of the season up in Boston the other day and broke every Italian in town at the juicy odds of 4 to 1?

When Primo took it on the run after losing to Jimmy Maloney, it must have been something of a shock to some of the sports writers who were trying to argue him into the championship by acclamation.

Max Schmeling, they say, is coming back in December, too. But after his run-out on a second match with Jack Sharkey there is little interest in the German and no disposition to recognize him as champion of anything other than the Liebergranz Works.

The best of the lot right now is Young Stribling. The Georgia boy has made good at last, and if they match him with Campolo in Florida in February, Billy will flop over the tall Argentine in short order. Meanwhile there's not much for Stribling to do around these parts. Sharkey is out. So are most of the others who were regarded as possibilities.

This stagnant situation in the heavyweight ranks, which is quite all right with most fans as long as they keep the manhole cover on fight has made it possible for a new crop of ham-handed foreign hopes to reach the light. For more years than you would believe to look at them, such faithful sons of the old sod as Jack McAuliffe and Tom O'Rourke have been seeking through Ireland for a real Irish heavyweight contender who might be built into a champion.

Now Tom O'Rourke believes he has a real one in Pat Redmond from Tipperary, six foot four without the brogans, weight 250 pounds, and as hard and nearly as fast as the Barney Stone. Redmond will be watched closely by many a hopeful Irish fighter, but it may prove that there's more blarney than stone in his fists. But by and large, the crop is about the poorest ever known, and as for a champion or even a championship fight, the suggestion is ridiculous.

Legs Diamond Getting Better

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—UP—Elaborate precautions to protect Jack Diamond, racketeer, in his room at Polyclinic hospital were taken today as the gangster gained strength and appeared likely to "beat the spot."

Heavy wire screens were placed on the windows of Diamond's room on the third floor, and additional patrolmen and detectives were stationed at points of vantage.

By their precautions police lent credence to the report that a watchman at Madison Square Garden, across the street from the hospital, had been approached by two men Sunday night who offered him $25 to allow them to take a "photograph" of Diamond's window from a fire escape across the street. The watchman refused because he didn't like the looks of the "violin case" the men were carrying, it was said.

Man Uses Head To Attack Drys

ST. PAUL, Minn.—The head makes an excellent battering ram, but is expensive when used to batter prohibition agents. Ray Brown has learned. Brown was arrested in a flat where alleged liquor was seized by agents. He resisted their intrusion and began to ram the officers' heads down. Breathless they captured him and charged him with possession, nuisance and assault of federal officers. He convicted. Brown is liable to $7500.

Missing Broker

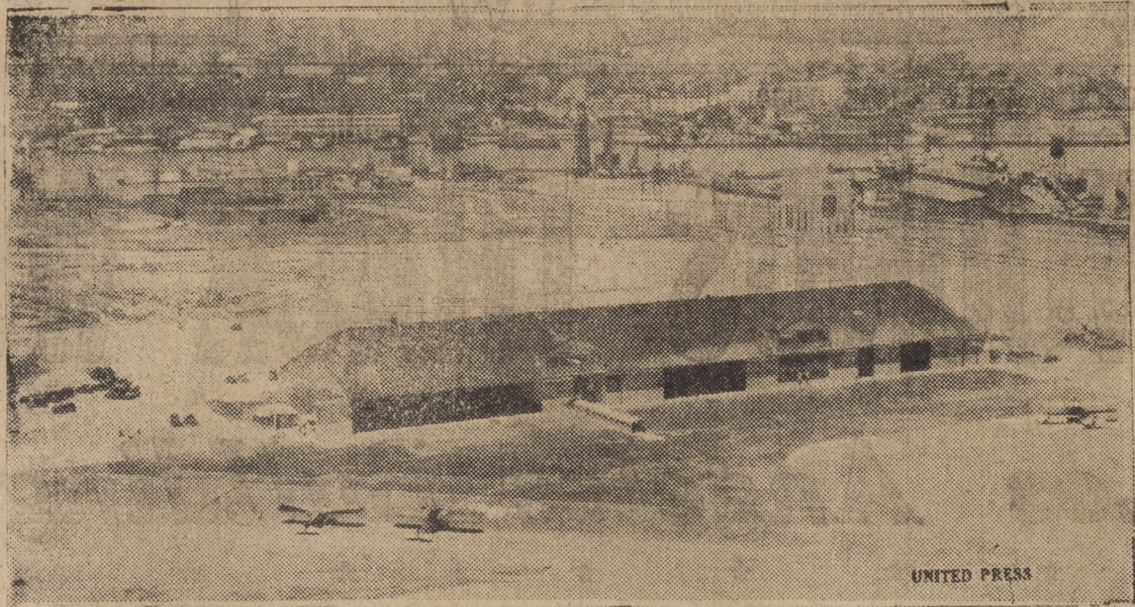

Found Beaten

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—UP—Eugene Del Monte, 37, bank official and stock broker, who had been missing for eight days, wandered through the business district here this afternoon and was recognized by one of many police officers who were furnished his description.

Del Monte was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, where an examination revealed he had been beaten about the face, head and body.

Detective Sergeant Marvin Dowell questioned Del Monte at the hospital but said he could not obtain a coherent statement from him about where he had been. Police believed Del Monte had been beaten and robbed.

SAN FRANCISCO bay airdrome, the closest airport to a large city on the Pacific coast. Situated in Alameda, the airdrome lies but six minutes from the centers of that city and of Oakland, via the giant traffic tube beneath Oakland estuary, and five minutes from San Francisco by air ferry service. When completed the airdrome will represent a $2,000,000 expenditure.

PAINFUL CORNS

Loosen—Lift Out

A little known Japanese herb, the discovery of an eminent German scientist (Dr. Stickle) instantly soothes the corn, callous or wart, lifts it out so that shortly you can lift it right out. This new discovery called "Corn Fly" excites the white blood corpuscles to action and granulates the corn at its root so that it drops out and leaves no trace of scar or soreness.

You will also find "Corn Fly Foot Bath Powder" a boon for sore, tired or perspiring feet.
"Corn Fly" for corns, 35c, "Corn Fly Foot Bath Powder" 25c, and "Corn Fly Bunion Remedy" 50c, (all three $1.10 value—for $1.00), are sold under a positive money-back guarantee by Hi-Gen Co., Newark, N. J., or local druggist.

GOOD FOOTBALL GAMES ON TAP TODAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—UP—Good football games will be played in every section of the Pacific coast this week-end. Featured contests will be in Portland where Washington opposes Oregon, and at Palo Alto where Oregon State battles Stanford.

There will be an inter-sectional encounter at Los Angeles between Utah Aggies and University of Southern California. The Washington State Cougars, leading the Pacific Coast conference, will meet a worthy foe in Gonzaga at Spokane. Old rivals, Montana and Montana State, clash at Butte, while residents of Idaho can see the State University in action against Whitman at Moscow. Nevada was not forgotten by schedule makers and the University of Nevada college of Pacific at Reno.

The contests in Portland and Palo Alto are headlines because Washington and Stanford are the only teams on the Pacific coast that have resisted every assault against their goal line this season. The Cardinals have rolled up 70 points in the four games that their goal line has been uncrossed while Washington has amassed a total of 102 points in three games against none for their opponents.

Not Sure

Despite these records neither is certain of victory tomorrow.

Oregon vanquished Washington by a score of 14 to 0 last year and the star of that victorious team, Johnny Kitzmiller, will be on the field again. The Huskies are handicapped by having their best player, Merle Hufford, on the injured list. He has been on the bench for two weeks with an infected leg.

Oregon will not have full strength either, because Don Watts, Kitzmiller's running mate, has a fractured collar bone. Oregon has pointed to Washington as the major opponent of its schedule. The Huskies meet the three major California teams after this engagement. The game would be hard fought for no other reason than that Coach "Doc" Spears of Oregon and Coach Jimmy Phelan of Washington, formerly of the "Big Ten" are in their first season on the coast.

Oregon State's chief worry as it goes against Stanford is the possible ineffectiveness of its line. Although defeated by U. S. C. two weeks ago 27 to 7, the Beavers showed that if their line could chase faster they would have a good chance against Stanford. Presence of this uncertainty has resulted in the Cardinals being favored.

U. C. To Win

In the other games, U. S. C. is expected to beat Utah Aggies. Washington State should win if it can stop Gonzaga's quarterback, Max Krause. Montana State will probably have a slight advantage over Montana in power, the University of Idaho is favored to beat Whitman and Nevada is believed to be stronger than College of Pacific.

The University of California's second team will start against Olympic Club of San Francisco at Berkeley as the favorite and St. Ignatius can hardly encounter serious trouble in the game with west coast Army here Sunday afternoon.

Veteran Fight Manager Called

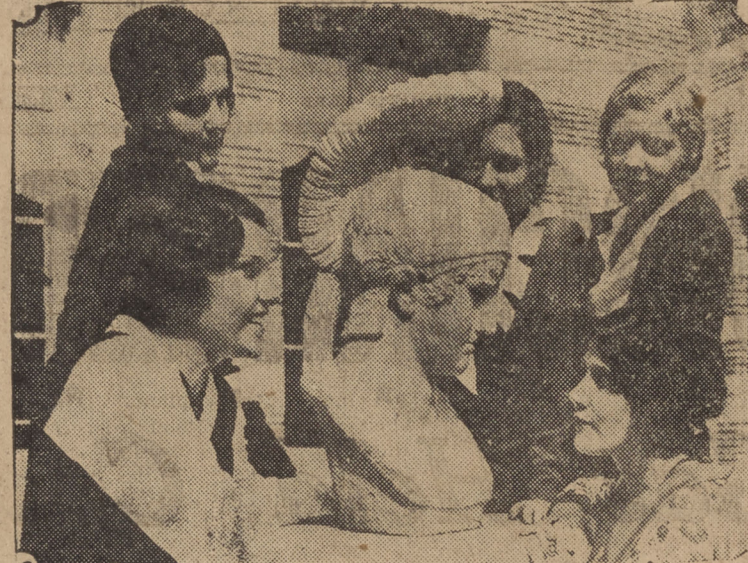

PETROSKEY, Mich., Oct. 17.—UP—Eddie Cane, veteran fight manager, died suddenly tonight at Petroskey hospital of pneumonia.

Glenna Collett Beats Miss Helen Hicks

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17.—UP—Miss Glenna Collett, of New York, neared her fourth women's national amateur golf title in as many years today when she reached the finals of the 1930 tournament by defeating her young fellow New Yorker, Helen Hicks, 5 and 3.

Only Virginia Van Wie of Chicago stood in the path of Miss Collett. Miss Van Wie won the other place in the final match by eliminating Mrs. O. S. Hill, of Kansas City, 2 and 1.

Miss Van Wie had ranked high on previous national tournaments and was expected to be a formidable opponent for Miss Collett tomorrow.

Good Golf

Miss Collett's victory over Miss Hicks was the result of her own good golf and Miss Hicks' lack of control with her woods. She was in trouble off the tee repeatedly. She frequently sent brassie shots into traps or rough.

Mrs. Hill carried Miss Van Wie to the 17th green. After being two down at the turn of their scheduled 18 hole match, Mrs. Hill was four down at the end of 13 holes. Then she won two holes and halved two. But the odds were in Miss Van Wie's favor and even the two even holes gave her an advantage of 2 holes with only 1 left to play.

On the 15 hole she played Miss Collett made six birdies and seven pars. She was over par once two times. Miss Hicks had only one birdie. She had ten pars, but was over par four times.

Five Birdies

In the 17 hole match, Miss Van Wie scored five birdies, five pars and was over seven times. Mrs. Hill had three birdies, seven pars and was over seven times.

Miss Collett took an early lead over Miss Hicks by winning the first three holes.

The champion had a birdie four on the first after driving her opponent, Miss Hicks' brassie second entered a trap and she over-shot the green. Miss Hicks was in trouble on the second hole when her drive found a trap. She topped her shot and got only 35 yards. Glenna's second shot was half strangled by trees but she got out nicely to the green and had a par five. Miss Collett won the third with a birdie four when Miss Hicks muffed her drive and sent a brassie into the rough.

In Trouble

Helen won her first hole when she took the fourth, a 175 yard hole, with a par three. Glenna over-punted. Miss Hicks seemed to have settled down. They halved No. 5 in par five and No. 6 and No. 7 in par fours.

Miss Hicks was in trouble again on the eighth. Her drive was in the heavy rough and when she played safe coming out she was short. Her third was 60 yards short of the green and she pitched clear over on her fourth. Her fifth shot was 10 feet past the cup and she missed her putt on the sixth. She conceded the hole to Glenna, who had a birdie five.

Glenna lost the ninth when her tee shot hooked to the left and

ST. MARY'S IN WIN OVER BRUINS

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17.—UP—University of California at Los Angeles put up a surprisingly strong battle against St. Mary's here tonight, but St. Mary's won 21 to 6.

St. Mary's was forced to keep its first team in the game for three quarters. Coach SLP Madigan put his second stringers in during the second quarter and U. C. L. A. promptly scored.

At the start it looked like a walk away for the Irish. After a couple of plays Stennet galloped 40 yards for a touchdown. A 21 yard pass Stennet to Toscani, fooled the Bruins and gave St. Mary's another touchdown in the second quarter, making the score 14 to 0 since Ebling converted twice. The Irish seconds entered and a pass, from Solomon to Willendorf netted 30 yards and a touchdown for the local team.

St. Mary's was held scoreless in the third quarter and might not have falled in the fourth had not the Bruins interceded with a pass, giving the Gaels the ball on the U. C. L. A. 17 yard line. Stennet went over for a touchdown after a few plays and the extra point on off-side made the score 21 to 6.

Even Money On Irish-Carnegie Contest Today

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Carnegie Tech has replaced Nebraska as Notre Dame's hoodoo on the gridiron and red-sweatered Tartans were an even money bet in the mid-west today to beat the Irish at South Bend Saturday.

A few years ago Nebraska was the hurdle Rockne's teams came a cropper on, but since 1926 Carnegie Tech always has brought out the worst in some of Notre Dame's best elevens.

Notre Dame has lost only 10 games under Rockne in the last eight years, and Nebraska and Carnegie Tech have won half of them. Nebraska, with three victories in four games, is the only team in the country which has won a majority of games from Rockne's pupils.

Seldom has Rockne played upon the mental side of his players as much as he has this week in an effort to whip them into a fighting frenzy.

I. CASSIDY CLAIMS BRIDE AT RENO, NEV.

The marriage of Irwin Cassidy, former Richmond man, to Miss Ursula Bates of Berkeley was announced this week by relatives of Miss Bates.

The marriage was held Aug. 2 at Reno and was kept secret by the couple until a few days ago. Irwin Cassidy is well known here, having attended the local school and graduated from Richmond Union High school. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Cassidy of Ardmore Road, Kensington. He is at present studying medicine at St. Mary's college.

Miss Bates is the adopted daughter of Mrs. Alta Bates, head of the Alta Bates sanitarium in Berkeley. She was educated at the Cora Williams Institute in Berkeley. She is an accomplished musician and dancer, having met Cassidy, also a well-known dancer, through their dancing activities. Both Cassidy and his bride plan to continue their studies.

A WANT AD IN THE RECORD-HERALD WILL DO THE WORK

DOUBLE CROSS ROADS WILL BE SHOWN

Generally saluted as one of the most powerfully dramatic pictures to reach the all talking screen, "Double Cross Roads" Fox Movietone romantic and emotional drama will be shown tomorrow at the Fox California Theater.

Based on William Lipman's widely read novel, "Yonder Grow the Daisies" with screen story and dialogue by Howard Eastbrook, and directed by Alfred L. Werker, this production is declared to embrace all the essentials of entertainment, tense drama, pathos, thrill, beauty and a sprinkling of delightful comedy.

Robert Ames, well and favorably known on the New York stage who went to Hollywood to play leading roles with Pola Negri, and who recently supported Gloria Swanson in "The Trespasser," portrays one of the principal character parts.

Lila Lee, beautiful and talented screen actress, whose name recently appeared in the electric lights of three prominent Los Angeles theatres at same time, enacts the leading feminine role.

The other featured players are Montagu Love, Ned Sparks and George MacFarlane, while the supporting cast embraces such well known players as Tom Jackson, Charlotte Walker, Edythe Chapman, William V. Mong and Thomas Jefferson, every one of whom has, at some time during their careers, played leading roles.

Alfred Werker, the director, was formerly a director for Mary Pickford and the late Fred Thompson, and made "Blue Skies" a successful Fox Movietone production.

During the action of the play, Miss Lee sings two songs "My Lonely Heart," by Charles Wakefield Cadman and William Kernell and "Show Me the Way" written by Kernell.

Some beautiful backgrounds are seen, notably the gorgeous garden party sequence, in which crooks and gunmen, disguised as servants rub elbows with the fashionably dressed guests.

The production was in general charge of George Middleton, associate producer, and critics who have already reviewed the picture declare it to be one of the outstanding screen entertainments of the year.

Drivers Warned On Loss Of Their Registration Slip

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 13.—California motorists who, for any reason, have lost or mislaid their certificates of registration (white slip) were advised today by the Division of Motor Vehicles to make application at once for a new certificate in anticipation of the coming license renewal period.

Before the motorist may secure his 1931 license plates it will be necessary for him to have his certificate of registration and the Division states, it will be easier to secure a duplicate now than to wait until the rush of renewals has started.

Applications for duplicates may be secured at any branch office of the division, from any captain or inspector in the California Highway Patrol or from any office of the automobile club.

If it is inconvenient for the motorist to get an application blank from any of these sources he may get one by writing directly to the main Division office at Sacramento.

Persons who have purchased cars during the year upon which the proper transfer has not been made were advised also to make the transfer before the renewal period as it will simplify the procedure and assist the Division in the expeditious handling of the hundreds of thousands of license renewals.

The annual renewal period will start December 15. Applications may be filed by mail any time after December 1.

'Current Events', U. C. Class Topic

SAN FRANCISCO.—The present turmoil in the South American republics will be one of the topics dealt with in a series of lectures entitled, "Current Events," to be inaugurated by the University of California Extension Division at 540 Powell street.

RICHARD DIX IN FILM HERE

"Shooting Straight," powerful new screen drama which opens today at the Fox-California Theater, presents Richard Dix in one of the gripping, red-blooded roles the popular star plays so well. Audiences at the local house were high in their praise of Dix's performance and the effective story upon which the picture has been based.

That Dix excellently handles practically every type of part is firmly established by "Shooting Straight." His latest characterization, that of a two-fisted big city gambler, differs widely from the light comedy roles he has played so capably within the past year. But the star makes the change-over from farceur to a strong dramatic player in a most convincing fashion.

Radio Pictures assembled a most competent cast of supporting players for the production. It is seldom that equal care is taken in casting a show. Mary Lawlor, attractive blonde actress who has graced the Broadway legitimate and musical comedy stage for the past few seasons, plays opposite Dix. They make a perfect screen team.

Matthew Betz, one of the best of picture "heavies," Robert Emmett O'Connor, George Cooper and William Janney contribute sterling characterization. George Archambaud directed most effectively.

"Shooting Straight" is ideal screen entertainment and another distinct tribute to the ability of Richard Dix.

VIGILANCE of Capt. E. K. Johanson of the Matson liner Wilhelmina, in sighting the English yacht Lady Royal, drifting helplessly 600 miles off the coast of Southern California, saved the lives of all on board. The Lady Royal was 71 days out from Panama and nearly a week before sighted by the Wilhelmina both water and food supplies were exhausted. Cams and adverse headwinds prevented the English yacht reaching any Pacific Coast port.

At the end of last year's experiment it was found that the fish meal ration of 5 percent gave better returns per pound of lamb than did alfalfa and barley alone, or than the 2 1-2 percent fish meal ration. With a growing supply of fish meal, it is believed possible producers of California lambs may be able to reduce their feeding costs.

One hundred and fifty lambs are being fed in this year's experiment, in six lots of 25 each. One lot is being given a ration of 89 percent rolled barley, 10 percent cottonseed meal and 1 percent salt; lot 2, rolled barley 96 1-2 percent, fish meal 2 1-2, salt 1; lot 3, rolled barley 94 percent, fish meal 5, salt 1; lot 4, rolled barley 91 1-2, fish meal 7 1-2, salt 1; lot 5, rolled barley 94, tannage 5, salt 1; lot 6, rolled barley 89, cottonseed meal 10, iodized salt 1.

EARLY DAYS OF TOMBSTONE TOLD

TOMBSTONE, Ariz., Oct. 17.—UP—As the Tombstone of the early 80's functioned with theatrical perfection today, John A. Rockefeller chuckled through the story of this city's first "preacherman."

"That was back when I lost lots of valuable time by serving on coroner's juries," he said.

"The Rev. Josiah Brown was the parson. He secured a dance hall for the services, at which a small audience greeted him."

Parish Dances

"He hardly had begun, when a wild looking individual rejoicing in the sobriquet of Curley Bill, pulled out an enormous pistol of self-cocking variety—calmly sighted it at the Rev. Josiah's eye—requesting a hornpipe and quick."

"The dance request was immediately complied with, and the reverend then gracefully backed out the door. He mounted his Mustang, which under stimulus of ear-splitting yells and liberal application of spurs, rapidly shot the dust of Tombstone from his hoofs."

"But that wasn't the end of it. Indignant citizens appointed a committee to call upon the Rev. Brown, express regrets of the community, and assure him that further services by him would receive ample protection."

Closes Game

"The parson decided to hold services again that same afternoon. As the hour of meeting approached business generally was suspended."

"Even the dealer at Faro bank—as he made the last turn—admonished the players to 'set 'em in high' because he was going to close the game until after church, and furthermore, all splits on the last deal were to go into the contribution box."

Ed Schieffelin—founder of Tombstone—was one of the congregation. His long locks hung down over his shoulders, his red shirt and high topped boots would have made him a marked member of any crowd."

"Many of the congregation had Winchester, others were content with revolvers and knives. It was evident to Brother Brown that the sinner who would interrupt the services, would have a hard road to travel."

"His nerves shattered, the minister made a powerful effort. It was a propitious moment, when, after the sermon, the parson suggested that a contribution be taken up, holding up his hat in lieu of a contribution box."

"The hat was a revelation to Tombstone at that time. It was one of the first plugs to enter the district, and had the owner not been a holy man, the chances were good of its being used as a target—without formality of the owner being requested to remove it from his head. The crown of the hat gave way, but the parson was richer by $103."

"The doxology was then rendered with great effect."

Mayor Sentenced To Federal Prison Refused To Resign

SPRINGFIELD, Oct. 17.—UP—Mayor Thomas H. Gideon, sentenced to serve two years in the Federal penitentiary and fined $10,000 on charges of violating the prohibition law, tonight declared he would not resign his position as head of Springfield.

Mayor Gideon, who was given a maximum sentence in Federal court today by Judge A. L. Reeves, said he had not been given a fair trial.

The mayor was charged with receiving liquor from a bootlegger in return for protection and participating in drinking parties at the state capitol.

New Troop Of Scouts Installed

A new troop of Richmond Boy Scouts was installed last night at ceremonies held in the Washington school auditorium.

The troop is sponsored by the Washington P. T. A. The ceremonial was called to order by Mrs. Gus Alyn, president of the P. T. A. and the P. T. A. opening ceremony was held.

Robert F. Cox, Richmond field executive then introduced the installing officers.

The remainder of the program was as follows:

Selection by Scouts LeRoy and Neal Yenson of Troop 11.

Stunts and demonstrations of activities by Troop 10.

Piano duet by Mrs. N. Stephens and Miss Jean Moyle.

Duty of sponsoring institution, J. R. Warner, Scout executive.

Presentation of Charter to Troop committee by Aubrey Wilson, chairman of Richmond district.

Investiture of candidate Scouts by Troop 12 of Wesley Methodist church.

Address by J. O. Ford, representative of the Richmond Lions club.

Illness Forces Hyde To Return

MARION, Ind., Oct. 17.—UP—Illness caused Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde to cancel his middle western speaking tour tonight and announced that he was returning immediately to Washington.

Secretary Hyde spoke this afternoon at a meeting of dairymen here and tonight spoke at a Republican rally. He had intended to go west next week taking an active part in the Missouri campaign.

Relatives Insist Harron Murdered

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17.—UP—Disatisfied with the police theory of suicide in the death of John Harron, 70, father of John Y. Harron of the films, relatives retained private detectives today to trace clues which they claimed indicated Harron was ambushed and robbed before being placed in an incinerator.

The elder Harron's body was found in an incinerator behind his gasoline service station, burned almost beyond recognition.

Police were aiding the youths in getting their machine into running order.

STOCK MARKET HITS NEW LOWS

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—UP—More than two billion dollars was wiped from market valuation of shares on the stock exchange today. Prices dropped to new lows for two years.

Sales were relatively light, but a sharp acceleration in business was noted in the last 50 minutes of trading when the downward movement was gaining momentum. Sales in this period amounted to 71,000 shares, against 38,010 in the corresponding period yesterday. Sales for the day amounted to 2,656,160, against 1,547,710 yesterday.

The decline was orderly and relatively quiet until the last hour. The steady heaving away of values touched off stop loss orders and brought about near demoralization.

Small Demand

Nevertheless, there appeared to be demand for stocks at declining prices and the day contrasted with conditions a year ago when there was an absence of bids. There was no need for organized banking support today and none was forthcoming.

Constant pressure was exerted against such high grade shares as General Electric and General Motors and both broke to new lows for the present shares. Westinghouse Electric dropped to a new low for the year in the late trading and dozens of railroad issues made new lows for several years come for all time.

United States Steel came within 1 1/8 points of its low since 1928 made last week at 144 1/2 and other leaders followed it downward.

Heavy Selling

There was nothing in the news to account for the selling. It was considered a normal procedure in the light of recent developments.

Heavy selling was noted all day in J. C. Penney and the stock broke to a new low at 35 5/8. It closed at 38 1/2 off 6 1/4. Colorado Fuel was another weak spot breaking to a new low at 26 off 6 points.

New lows for the year or longer were made by Republic Steel preferred, Sinclair, American Water Works, United Gas Improvement, Eaton Axle, Trico products, Trans-America, Texas corporation and Du Pont.

Among the rails to make new lows for several years were New York Central, Allegheny Corporation, Chesapeake Corporation, Atlantic Coast Line, Illinois Central, Missouri-Kansas-Texas, Chicago and North Western, Union Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio and New Haven.

Grains closed with fractions' gains while cotton was about steady.

Two Escape Death In Auto Mishap

Two young men miraculously escaped death early this morning when the machine in which they were riding skidded and catapulted over the sidewalk and into a vacant lot on San Pablo avenue near Garvin, Richmond police reported.

James S. Feneran, Sacramento and driver of the car became confused as he was going south and the accident followed. Enford Hale, Bright City, Sacramento county riding with him suffered cuts and bruises for which he was treated at Abbott Emergency hospital along with Feneran.

Police were aiding the youths in getting their machine into running order.

FIRE DANGER IN FORESTS LOW

Rain and snow in the mountain regions of California during the past two weeks have materially reduced the fire danger within the national forests of the state, according to Regional Forester E. B. Shaw of the U. S. Forest Service headquarters in San Francisco. While the storms were insufficient to end the fire season, the likelihood of a serious fire situation developing is said to be remote in the northern timbered forests, and several forest supervisors have made a substantial reduction in the number of forest guards and henchmen, while the Modoc and Stanislaus National forests have removed the ban on smoking.

The national forests in southern California, valuable principally for watershed protection and recreation, were not so fortunate as their northern neighbors and received much less precipitation during the late storms. Consequently, the risk of fires starting is still high and these forests are retaining their complete fire fighting organizations.

On the whole, the fire season of 1930 has been the most favorable in recent years, said Shaw. To a considerable degree this was due to the cooler weather condition that prevailed in the mountains this summer. There were fewer protracted periods of low relative humidity than usual, which means that the moisture content of the air was uniformly higher and thus gave fires less chance to burn rapidly and spread to conflagration size. Increased Federal appropriations made it possible to employ more forest guards and patrolmen, and to buy much needed fire fighting equipment. This factor also had an important part in holding fires to a small acreage.

The season's record shows that to Sept. 30 a total of 1221 fires have occurred on areas protected by the U. S. Forest Service, or 71 more fires than during the same period in 1929. Only 166 of these fires, however, reached a size of ten acres or over, as against 211 ten acre fires last year, a reduction of 5 percent in the number of large fires.

An encouraging sign in the fire record, says the regional forester, is the reduction in man-caused fires from 789 in 1929 to 717 in 1930. This indicates that the users of forest and brush lands are slowly but surely recognizing the incipient damage that lurks in the lighted match, tobacco and camp fire, and as a rule, are observing the few simple rules for care with fire in the mountains.

Smokers' fires, which are the most prevalent of all causes in the national forests, dropped from 286 in 1929 to 251 in 1930, but still accounted for 35 percent of all fires caused by human carelessness with matches and tobacco.

The area of government and private lands burned in 1930 within the boundaries of the 18 national forests of California was less than one-third of the total for 1929, or 28,055 and 90,133 acres respectively. The cost of fire suppression in the national forests was $210,000, or a reduction of $118,000 over the cost of fire control last year.

The four national forests in southern California—Angeles, Cleveland, San Bernardino and Santa Barbara—established a splendid fire record for the season. The total number of fires in these forests, as compared with 1929 was reduced from 171 to 119; and man-caused fires from 110 to 81. Marked reduction in the area burned over was also made, as follows:

National forest land 21,899 acres in 1929 to 3188 acres in 1930, and private lands inside national forest: 8412 acres to 606 acres. Suppression costs were reduced from $95,490 to $31,792.

While present conditions indicate the fire season should come to a successful conclusion without further serious outbreaks, the experience of past years has also indicated October to be a disastrous period when the usual precipitation fails for that month. Should serious weather conditions again arise, states Shaw, the national forest fire protective organization will be strengthened in sufficient numbers to meet the emergency.

GERMANY IN NEW THREAT OF WAR

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—UP—Tumult in today's rowdy session of the Reichstag reached a climax when a fascist deputy declared Germany would not hesitate, if forced to do so, to mobilize her strength as a last means of restoring German freedom.

The threat of force came while the speaker, Gregor Strasser, was demanding abolition of the Young plan for reparations payments and revision of the treaty of Versailles.

Meanwhile, labor and political unrest grew and clashes among strikers and strike-breakers and the police in separate riots disturbed the peace of the capital.

Bill Read

Despite the numerous political cross-currents in the Reichstag, the second reading of a bill authorizing the new $125,000,000 "carry over" loan, financed chiefly in Wall street, was passed.

This was taken as a sign that the government, with socialist party support, might successfully defeat misconfidence and other motions calculated to embarrass the administration.

Strasser's address was delivered amid an unusual silence in the Reichstag, where cut-throats and boos have been the order of the day since the deputies gathered last Monday, the convening of the fifth Reichstag under the Republic.

War Seen

"We don't want war," Strasser cried, "because the world's recuperation depends on the recovery of the civilized countries."

"However, we would not shun war if the mobilization of German power should prove the last means of restoring German freedom."

The labor unrest, which with political tumult is threatening the survival of the Bruening cabinet, resulted in renewed clashes between communists and the police in the metal workers district, where 120,000 men are on strike as a result of a wage dispute.

Police, using their clubs freely, dispersed the jeering crowd. Several were slightly injured in the melee.

In the Prussian diet, the metal workers strike caused tumultuous scenes between socialists and communists, with the communists moving to have the government order the cessation of police "attacks" on strikers. The socialists objected and the diet's session was suspended amid waving flags and shouted insults.

FURTHER SLASH IN SHIPMENT OF GRAPES

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—UP—Further curtailments of grape shipments from California were ordered today for all of next week by the clearing house committee of the California Grape Control board.

Shippers and growers, twice restricted in the past week, were instructed not to move more than 800 cars a day eastward from Oct. 19 to 25, inclusive.

The first curtailment was approved at mass meetings held in Fresno, Modesto and Lodi last week. Then on Wednesday the clearing house decided a 33 1/3 percent cut was imperative for the last three days of this week, bringing the total for each day down to approximately 1000 cars.

In instructing affiliated shippers and growers today to prepare for another reduction that would make the total for next week one third less than the estimated shipments of juice grapes during that period, the committee explained that more cars than can be used are already in eastern markets and there seems to be a tendency of the market to weaken.

The order is said to be binding upon the California Vineyardists' association, the California Fruit Growers Exchange and the San Joaquin Growers-Shippers association, which are affiliated with the control board and are credited with control of about 85 percent of the commercial tonnage.

LETTER

There is not much to write to you today—This morning's sky was overcast and gray, But since the weather has blown about, It is quite warm and now the sun is out. Prim pumpkins comb the garden's weedy locks, Corn slants its length in neatly ordered shocks; The grapes have purpled on the arbor's spread, And where the orchard reaches overhead, Apples are hung like luminous desire; The meadows sprinkle pungence on a pyre Of goldenrod; I found a bluejay's quill, And when the lane was generously still, I heard a squirrel's imprint on the dust; Beneath the fence, an unexpected gust Of wind shook a crisp acorn from an oak, And quickened swirls of aromatic smoke; I watched its effervescent mischief pull Down from a thistle till its hands were full And the brook's musical impatience spanned The quiet of the pebbles, moss and sand; Slim galleys sail the vigor of the air From willow wands stripped primitively bare And where a fish hawk circumscribes a tall Smooth pine, the needles pierce its vibrant call; Where shadows of long woods lie straight and Spiced warmth is widening a sunburned pool; And hours sway seductively between Those that have been and those yet to be seen. There is not much to write to you today—There are no words to tell what I would say!

KITCHEN COURAGE

THERE'S physical courage, mental courage, moral courage, Dutch courage, three o'clock-in-the-morning courage and many other kinds. But every American woman should be grateful to Mrs. Herbert Hoover for her recent frank and spontaneous tribute to a variety of courage too often overlooked. Unwept, unhonored and unsung—though it's perhaps the commonest, most useful, most unflinching in the world. The quality which may be described as KITCHEN COURAGE. Perhaps you read how the President's wife came to speak of it. She was giving an interview, at the annual convention of the Girl Scouts of America, in Indianapolis. She is their honorary president. And she said that one reason why she valued the Girl Scout movement, was that it taught young girls the importance of housework. Then she added the line which should lighten the heart of every harassed housewife. "You know," confessed Lou Henry Hoover, "I think it takes just as much courage to wash dishes three times a day. As it does to go out and shoot a bear." The last tribute of this sort to home workers came from Margaret Bondfield, secretary of labor and England's first woman cabinet member. When she said, last spring: "We should go down on our knees to the women who prepare food in varying and appetizing ways." Both Mrs. Hoover and Miss Bondfield are one hundred per cent right. We're not so much of a cook, but as a past, present and (undoubtedly) future dish-washer. We would like to lead in giving three rousing cheers of gratitude to the Lady of the White House. Of all the dull, monotonous, back-breaking, soul-wearingly tasks, Surely washing dishes is the apex of the ultimate. The appalling thing about it is that it's a labor of Sisypheus. He, you remember, was the mythological martyr Sentenced to roll a stone uphill. Then wait for it to roll down and roll it up again. And again—AND AGAIN—forever and ever! That's the trouble with dish-washing. You can't do it once and for all, simply WON'T stay done. No matter how many dishes you wash today. You have them all to do over tomorrow. And tomorrow and tomorrow and TOMORROW!

But, after all, isn't this quality of repetition dullness? Characteristic of so many of the tasks performed by housewives? We mean such jobs as bed-making, dusting, floor-cleaning, table-setting. Work that is never done, but always to be done again. It seems to us that the woman who performs these jobs Patiently, conscientiously, cheerfully, day after day. In order to make life easier and pleasant for those whom she loves. The woman who possesses and puts into practice kitchen courage—Has valor of a very high order indeed. We agree, from the bottom of our soul, with Mrs. Hoover. That to go out and shoot a bear—to demonstrate a spirit of adventurous bravery—Is not one bit more valiant Than to do monotonous hard work, day after day—to possess the courage of quiet endurance. Courage that receives no public acclaim And often not much private appreciation. So we're glad the President's wife hailed the heroine of dish-mop and sink—GIVING—for once—THIS little girl a hand!

Irregular Shelves

THE set of shelves you buy painted or unpainted for some particular corner cupboard effect, always look alike for the reason they are of the same size or are of graduated widths. A most attractive corner for bric-a-brac was evolved by an artist who had some triangular shaped boards at her command and formed shelves that are novel and interesting because they are irregular in width and in length. The result is not formal and precise, but in that very fact lies the charm.

Happy is the housewife, nowadays when she goes to market and finds she can afford to serve delicacies that are fairly lavish in their demands for eggs. Delicate, fluffy cakes, tempting souffles, pies topped with tender meringues, all come out of the class of luxuries when eggs can be bought for 29 cents a dozen. Now is the time to try out new recipes that appeal to you if they call for several eggs, for a little later the rising price will make a much bigger dent in your food budget. One of the recipes I tried for the first time a few days ago may be the "something different" you have been looking for. It is a lemon pie, but different from any other I have ever seen or tasted. And that was rather a blow to me because I thought I was in authority on lemon pies. This one was introduced to me by our own Emma Kane of The World. Refinishing the Floor

THERE is not much reason to flout the fact that the floors are old and worn by using a high polish. The better thing to do would be to play up the newer things and play down the older floors. However, since there is no particular trick to refinishing the floors and making them look new again, why not refinish them and show your floors with true housewife pride? The first thing, whether the floor is varnished, painted, waxed, stained or shellacked, is to entirely remove the finish. Varnish remover and sandpapering will do this. If you have the sanding attachment which is a feature of electric floor polishers, so much the better. Generally, floors are sanded with the grain. However, if the floor surface has been too much used, the machine may be run cross-grain at a forty-five degree angle. It is never advisable to sand the floors at right angles to the grain. In order to close the pores of open grain woods like oak and walnut after sanding, a paste wood filler should be used. The paste should then be allowed to dry for at least twenty-four hours. Wipe up the surplus filler with burlap used across the grain. Then a coat of clear lacquer is brushed on with the grain and let dry for an hour. Two coats of paste wax may be applied and polished. Close grain floors, such as maple, pine, birch and fir, need no filler. After the sanding has been done, apply a clear floor lacquer to give a natural finish and then add two coats of paste wax. By using a lacquer wood stain, probably in light or dark oak, walnut or mahogany, the floor in a natural finish can attain a lovely stained effect. If desirable, this treatment can be followed up by waxing.

Correct Carpeting for Long, Narrow Rooms

By Alma Zais

AN EXCEPTIONALLY GOOD FLOOR TREATMENT FOR THE LONG NARROW ROOM IS HERE ACHIEVED BY THE USE OF AN ORIENTAL RUNNER OVER PLAIN CARPETING.

Dear Miss Zais: I have a living room 16x23 feet for which it is necessary to buy a new rug. Will you give me your suggestion whether Orientals or solid colored ones are newest? I do not wish to buy carpet. I thought two $210 taupe rugs would be good if they are using solid colors. If not I would get one Oriental, 9x12, and use scatter rugs with it. Will you kindly let me know your ideas on the subject as soon as possible as I wish to purchase them immediately. Thank you for your trouble. (Mrs.) A. S.

How NOT to Buy—and Why

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930

WITHOUT a doubt, we all realize the importance of a good foundation on which to build the decorative scheme and give much thought to the choice of rugs for our rooms. But in deciding the important question of what size and type of carpeting is best suited to the room and the furnishings we have been known to make some grievous mistakes. Mrs. S. gives us a convenient problem on which to hang a discussion of these points, which we shall answer both briefly and at length. First—very tersely—Rugs should give unity to rooms. And second—Unless one can afford good Orientals, it is far, far better to select a plain rug. As to whether Orientals or solid colored rugs are the newest, we may say that there is no definite style in the case of clothing. Rugs may be either bright or dull, patterned or plain, as it suits our fancy, our pocketbook and the rest of the room's composition. Decorators use what is needed to give proper base and balance to their schemes, and sometimes the choice falls upon Orientals, sometimes upon plain tones, and sometimes upon interesting colors in simple but varied weaves. Each rug has its own story to tell and can be combined satisfactorily with certain types of furniture and made to fit harmoniously into color schemes that suit different types of homes and people. We could not, of course, tell Mrs. S. definitely what color or kind of rug would be best for her room because she has given us no history of its furnishings. Our own choice, however, would never be a taupe rug, but that is perhaps a personal whim. Taupe and gray—being neutral—are always safe. Yet why bring a dull earthy foundation into the house when one might tread upon a carpet as refreshing to see as a bed of silver-green sage, or as colorful as a drift of gold or russet autumn leaves, or as fascinating as the deep blue-green of the sea or the mellow terra cotta tones found in the tiled floors of old Spanish courtyards? If we choose with relation to curtains and upholstery, we can get the colors we would round out beautifully the scheme of the room instead of lying tamely on the floor as a neutral background. Even granting that we must play safe because of conflicting colors in the room, then why not a rich walnut-colored carpet, instead of taupe? But this outburst represents merely our personal feeling. Taupe is still good and doubtless will continue to be good for years and years to come. It is the modern trend in decoration that urges those who would enjoy color by all means to have it. An even more important point in our problem is the one concerning size. A 16x23 foot room is very long and narrow. If doors and windows are not in exactly the right location to permit comfortable groups of furniture which naturally divide the room into two parts, those two 8x10 foot rugs Mrs. S. suggests will prove extremely irritating. The next suggestion—one 9x12 Oriental and scatter rugs—is equally bad for the large rug would necessarily be centered, leaving a big bare space at either end to be covered by small rugs. An arrangement that would be disturbing as well as too costly, considering its haphazard effect. Fitting the rug to the room is much like fitting the garment to the person. Mrs. S. is trying to persuade her room that it is not a long, narrow, string-bean type at all, but a nice little room to be clothed in small garments. No matter if it takes two or even three short skirts to cover its long, thin frame. Please, Mrs. S., admire and appreciate the character of that very nice room and dress it accordingly. We can demonstrate our point in no better way than by reference to the photograph which illustrates one very excellent treatment for such a room. Here plain carpeting has been used as a foundation and instead of scatter rugs—which invariably create a spotty effect—one long Oriental runner extending across the carpet forms a beautiful center panel of color and interest. These rugs are perfectly fitted to the lines and proportions of the room and make possible a dozen different furniture groups which either of the two treatments suggested by Mrs. S. would prohibit. Since Mrs. S. does not wish to buy carpeting, we would advise her to get a plain broadloom rug in plain size and of a soft rich color that is found in the upholstery or draperies in use in the room. This will give her a foundation that will be beautiful and satisfying, complete and in good taste always, regardless of additional ornamentation. Then when convenient she may buy a lovely Oriental runner and use it over the plain rug as indicated in the photograph. Or she might use a smaller Oriental over the plain rug before the sofa, the fireplace or a large table, if it makes a good outline in the room. There is this to be said for the runner: Because of the odd proportions it is easy to find marvelous values in long, narrow Orientals, while one must pay just about market price for regulation sizes. If Mrs. S. hesitates to buy an odd-shaped rug which may not be suitable for future rooms, she should remember that a good Oriental never loses its value as an investment but—providing it has received good treatment—increases in price with age. Therefore, if she should move to an apartment that will not accommodate the runner, she may, as we say, "turn it in" on the price of a more suitable rug and find that she has lost little, if anything, by the transaction. Meanwhile she will be enjoying the most luxurious and effective treatment possible for her long living room. If the double expense of foundation carpet and Oriental becomes a question, the answer is that it would cost no more—possibly less—to carry out this scheme than it would to piece out the 9x12 Oriental with scatter rugs or to buy two good 8x10 foot rugs. Also, the plain rug is sufficient without even a sign of an Oriental unless it is particularly desired for additional decoration. In the new Home Modernization Booklet—Book No. 4 on Covering the Modern Floor—much information will be found on the subject of selecting the right rug for the room. We are sending Mrs. S. a copy of the book which will give her a good general understanding of the subject. Then let us add this bit of shopping advice for her and for other readers: From an investment standpoint, unless one is a judge of rugs or can take along some one who is, it is usually better to buy plain carpet or plain rugs. Only those who know rugs can judge of the intrinsic value of an Oriental, whereas the good grades of plain carpeting are practically standard and one cannot be misled about them. This admonition does not apply, of course, where one is shopping for beauty only, or to satisfy personal taste, but is intended as a hint to those who may contemplate buying Orientals with the idea of exchanging them or selling them later on. May we end today's problem by inviting all who are interested in home decorating to write for the new booklet, Covering the Modern Floor? Practically all phases of the subject are treated in this book through illustration and text which may be used as a guide in determining the right floor treatment for each room.

THE RODNEY BINKS MURDER CASE

(What has gone before: Rodney Binks was found murdered in his library and the greatest of all superdetectives, Hilo Jack, was called into the case. That's all you need to know.)

THE police sergeant moved uneasily. Hilo Jack surveyed the scene. He stepped over Rodney Binks' dead body and looked at it with a pocket microscope. "Hm-m-m," he hummed, "this man was murdered at exactly 11 P. M."

"What makes you think that?" inquired Sgt. Hennessy. "Because the hands on his Elk's watch charm are stopped exactly at 11 o'clock," explained the great detective. "You cops are always over-looking things." Hilo Jack lit another cigaret and inspected the body more closely. First he raised the left arm for a thorough inspection. Then the right arm. Then he raised the left leg and examined it. Then the right leg. The colors of the bindings threw him into a frenzy. He seized the book ends, one in each hand, and bringing them together like a pair of cymbals, caught Rodney Binks' head between them and crushed it. You will find the murderer was a skilled accordion player—it was such a neat job.

"Wait a minute, now," said Hennessy, jotting down notes. "How do you spell cymbals—with an S?" "With an S on the end," said Hilo Jack, with a sneer. "Is there anything you cops do know?" "If the killer done the job with book-ends, what was the idea of plugging him with a bullet and putting poison in his stomach?" Hennessy demanded to know.

"It is too simple for words, so I'll tell you with music," replied Hilo Jack, as he seated himself at the baby grand piano. He played a few bars from "I've Dreamed of You on the Railroad." Then, turning around to Hennessy, he said, "There—you see?" "I still don't get it," confessed the sergeant. "You say you'll explain why the murderer shot Mr. Binks after already killing him with the book-ends, and then you play I've Been Working on the Railroad. I give up."

"TO THROW US OFF THE TRACK!" said Hilo Jack, deliberately. "There is only one thing dumber than a policeman, and that's a dum-dum bullet." He lit another cigaret. "It was to throw us off the track he shot Rodney Binks and then administered poison. Just follow me and I'll explain." (Continued tomorrow. Tell your news dealers not to forget to save you a copy.)

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking Nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when Nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

GAS HELD AS L. A. BLAST CAUSE

officers began their work.

Lieut. William Hynes, in charge of the "red" squad, said the garment capitol building had been under guard for several weeks because of labor trouble. M. Mintz, secretary of the Cloakmakers' union local said promptly that "the majority of those injured were members of our union; we would not blow up our own people."

Gas Theory

A belief that "heavier-than-air" gas was injected into the building was expressed by Blanney Mathews, of the district attorney's office. He said he was hazy as to what the gas may have been but the fact that the explosion was closer to the floor than to the ceiling led to his opinion.

Mathews' theory was supported by two members of the fire department arson squad. They said the gas might have been placed on the floor above and have descended the elevator shaft. It could have been set off, they said, by sparks reported to have jumped from a switch when the burglar alarm was turned off simultaneously with the explosion. They said the switch might have been tampered with.

Police chemists, after viewing bits of linoleum, glass and plaster turned over to them, declared they believed T. N. T. was present.

However, I. Meyers, union employe of the style cloak company on the tenth floor, reported that ever since Monday many girl workers had complained of gas and that one girl had refused to continue to work.

Red Plot

Lieut. Hynes was working on the theory that Communists set off a blast.

Members of the Garment Workers' Union went on strike Sept. 1, but seven of the twelve companies had re-assigned their employes, terminating the strike, it was said.

Two police details were on duty in front of the building at the time of the explosion. One policeman was thrown from an automobile to the street by the force of the blast.

Pulled Switch

Howard Schulman, manager of the Beverly Hills ready to wear company was the indirect cause of the blast. As was his habit he opened the door to his suite of rooms at 7:25 a. m. The burglar alarm began ringing and he pulled the switch to shut it off, as he did daily.

"I saw a spark jump when I pulled the switch," Schulman said. "And the next instant it was like hell in there. Flames shot through the whole floor and out through windows. Someone dragged me out."

The fire that licked the front of the building caused several of the injuries. Those in the building rushed to the windows and were seared by the flames.

Buildings Hit

Dozens of buildings nearby were rocked and windows and contents damaged. It was reported that hundreds of radio tubes were thrown from shelves in an adjoining warehouse and broken.

While the force of the explosion was lessened in the outlying residential districts, late sleepers were awakened by the explosion, which echoed with a dull boom.

3 DEAD IN TRAIN CRASH

CLEVELAND, Oct. 17.—UP—Three men were killed and four injured today when an eastbound New York Central engine with one baggage car telescoped into a mail train of the same line.

The dead are Henry Spouse, 48, fireman; Charles Graf, 65, engineer, and Jerry F. Dixon, 45, conductor, all of Cleveland.

The injured, one critically, are Frank McCarthy, 42, engineer, severely scalded; Thomas Henahan, 59, sprained neck; Clarence Sheffield, 35, internal injuries and William Harnnett, 34, all of Cleveland and members of the mail train crew.

The bodies of the three dead men were pinned in the cabin of the train. Rescuers were unable immediately to remove bodies because of the tangled wreckage.

CAPONE WILL FACE MURDER CHARGES

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—UP—Chicago's spectacular front page campaign to free the city of gangsters and racketeers etched in glaring black headlines again tonight the name of "Scarface" Al Capone.

Authorities, who have sent only one major racketeer to the penitentiary so far in their four month concentrated chase after the city's bad men, let it be known that the hitherto immune gangster chieftain "might be" prosecuted for murder and other lesser crimes, if and when he is caught.

A warrant is out for Capone's arrest as a vagrant. The father of Assistant State's Attorney William MacSwiggen, who was murdered several years ago in Cicero, has said, he can prove Capone handled the death gun. The state's attorney's office hinted that they might let the senior MacSwiggen tell his story to the grand jury in hopes of a murder indictment.

The hints of dire things in store for Capone were intended apparently to revive the fire of public indignation, which has been lagging during the long cleanup battle started by the assassination of Alfred "Jake" Lingle, Chicago Tribune reporter, last June.

Acting Commissioner John Aleck Russell's successor, appeared today before a grand jury to tell why a list of gangsters scheduled to be arrested, got into the hands of Capone's gang, before any arrests occurred. Eight names, marked off this list when it was found, were missing from a second list "copies from memory" by detectives.

SCHOOL CLUB PRESENTS PROGRAM

More than 800 members of the Richmond Union High school International club and their friends gathered last night at the annual International club program given in the high school auditorium.

The theme of the varied program was Holland, Dutch music, Dutch dances, a talk on Hyland and a play were presented during the concert.

The program opened with the presentation of a vocal duet "The Dutch Dolls," by Eugenia Pinoli and Virginia Thole. Darrow Sutton and Albert Schults were also heard in a vocal duet entitled, "Dutch Lullaby." Both duets were accompanied by Miss June Mills on the piano and Melvin Higgins on the xylophone. The musical part of the program also included selections by Hughes Fowell, high school pianist.

The speaker of the evening was Mrs. W. A. Woods of Oakland. Mrs. Woods described to the audience in an interesting manner the customs, scenery, and people of Holland, which country she visited for a lengthy period recently. Mrs. Woods has traveled widely, having spent more than two years traveling in Europe. Mrs. Woods last night illustrated her talk with pictures taken during her stay in Holland.

A quaint Dutch dance was presented by the following chorus: Gladys Foster, Ruth Brown, Grace Rodin, Christine Coleman, Roberta Hanson, Irene Rollins, Mary Lou Holman, Harriet Berry, Lenore Brougham, Bernice Newford, Jacqueline Armstrong and Mildred Lowell. The dance was presented under the direction of Mildred Lowell. June Mills, pianist, accompanied the dancing.

A clever one-act comedy entitled "French As Is Spoken" concluded the program. The play was directed by Miss Dorothy Cox of the high school faculty and adviser of the International club. Joe Williams capably occupied the role of Mr. Jones, while the part of Adele Michelet was well played by Dorothy Oswill. Ernest Peters portrayed the part of Monsieur Michelet. Maurice Flores caused merriment in his role of Interpreter, while Edward Faust aided him in doing so in the role of Inspector. Eugenia Pinoli, as the clerk, and Paul Armstrong as the bellboy, also added to the success of the production.

Harmon Jatta, president of the Richmond Union High school International club, acted as master of ceremonies during the concert.

Woman Slain By Machine Gun Gang

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 17.—UP—Machine gun killers sent a barrage of bullets into the home of Clyde Garrison, prominent gambler, here tonight, killed Mrs. Garrison and critically wounded Garrison.

The gunmen raced to the front of the house, fired volley after volley into the living room and sped away before witnesses could make out the license number or the kind of automobile in which they rode.

Neighbors rushed in to find Mrs. Garrison dead and her husband so critically injured that hospital physicians said he probably would die.

Garrison is part partner owner of the Windsor cafe, known as one of Peoria's most luxurious gambling houses.

Pantages Trial Fought By State

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17.—UP—The district attorney's office today asked the state supreme court to review the recent decision of the appellate court granting Alexander Pantages, showman, a retrial on his conviction for alleged assault against Eunice Pringle, 17-year-old dancer.

The prosecution argue that if the defense is permitted to bring Miss Pringle's past life into the case it will be "a hardship on the women of the state." The appellate court ruled that the girl's past should have been reviewed in the trial to determine truth of statements she made concerning the attack.

GERMAN DAY FOR ROTARY

Soviet Russia is endeavoring to corner the world's trade by underselling the other nations, Robert Sibley, University of California alumni head and noted engineer told Richmond Rotary club at its regular meeting yesterday.

At a program marked as "German Day" Sibley who has recently returned from a visit to the European continent told of the work of the Soviets under the direction of American engineers in their efforts to corner the world trade. The whole nation was at work he asserted in this giant scheme.

In charge of the program was Otto Ludwig, who had gaily costumed girls as waitresses who passed near beer to the diners as part of the menu. German music from a quartet of Mannerchor singers was loudly welcomed by the Rotarians.

Mrs. Otto Ludwig decorated the dining room with flowers for the event.

The four Mannerchor singers were Joseph Hirthm, Ralph Barde, William Marteh, and Anthony H. Dornford. The Lions club orchestra added to the entertainment by their lively music.

Oil Sands At Orinda Well

MARTINEZ, Oct. 18.—Enthusiasm was being expressed today over the announcement of O. G. Green that the Orinda test well had showed evidence of oil bearing sands in sufficient quantity to warrant commercial production.

Eighteen inches of oil and sand had been cored in the Orinda test, Green, president of the Orinda Petroleum company announced.

Just as engineers made the find the rotary table of the rig broke and it was necessary to send to Taft for a new part. It was said that the test well will be in operation again tomorrow if the needed part arrived in time.

Gas in commercial quantities has also been secured at the well, Green announced.

Gangsters Take Man For 'Ride'

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Gangsters took another victim for a "ride" today, shot him through the month, then tossed his body into an alley just off Crooked street.

The man appeared to have been about 28 years old. In his pocket was a receipt made out to a Roy Bell.

The officers also found keys to a hotel, where they went and arrested Helen Bell, 18, who said she was the wife of the "ride" victim. Mrs. Bell refused to tell anything about her husband.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

RICHMOND CALIF.—The building of the huge Ford plant and many other activities in Richmond are creating a big demand for centrally located Richmond Real Estate.

The wise ones are buying in the Burg Tracts—the heart of Richmond's new Business Center, where values must rise first, making big profits certain.

Here is food for thought, investigation and action. "What you will be tomorrow, depends upon what you do today."

ARIZONA LAW SCORED BY R. R.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—UP—Railroads furnished further evidence here today intended to prove their claim that the Arizona law limiting the length of trains passing through that state should be abolished, and at the the conclusion of the session the hearing was adjourned until Monday morning.

A. L. Conrad, of Chicago, assistant general auditor of the Santa Fe railroad, was on the witness stand most of the day reciting figures.

Conrad estimated that the law which limits freight trains to 70 cars and passenger trains to 14 cars while passing through Arizona was costing his railroad $600,000 a year.

He dealt mainly with reference to freight trains, saying there are a number of such trains more than 90 cars long that must be broken up at Belen, N. M. or Barstow, Calif., junction points, to conform with the Arizona statute.

E. J. Morrison, Phoenix attorney who is presiding at the hearing, said tonight it had not been definitely decided whether hearings would be held in Los Angeles after the sessions here are ended, probably the latter part of next week.

Lions Club To Hear Cheer Leader

When the University of California had its "wonder teams" eight years ago J. C. Drew was leading the students in their yells.

Next Thursday that same cheer leader will address Richmond Lions at its regular meeting. Memories of those teams will probably be revived in the minds of the club listeners when Beck speaks. Malcolm Drew will be chairman of the event. Beck is now connected with a San Francisco stock and bond house.

Have a

Cash Reserve in the Bank

The desire to make money quickly is natural but it is dangerous when it leads to risky speculation.

Many persons became aware of the risks during the recent break in the stock market.

Even those who held good stocks realized the importance and the necessity of having a cash reserve in the bank to meet the emergency.

An American Trust Company savings account is one form of investment that can readily be turned into cash—for it is cash—a ready reserve for emergencies and opportunities.

Start Saving. It is the first step in getting what you want. It makes dreams come true.
